

A HIGHER °DEGREE OF SAFETY

Here at HarbisonWalker International (HWI) we take safety seriously. In fact it is our mission to ensure our employees leave their jobs each day in the same condition that they came into work. Now, with key partnerships in place, HWI is proud to extend our safety mantra to all of our customers and partners. HWI is proud to supply high quality, industry leading safety and personal protective equipment (PPE) products to the marketplace. With access to thousands of products in all categories of personal and industrial safety HWI can help you keep yourself and your people safe.

More than PPE

More often than not, a workplace injury is the result of not having the right tool to do the job. As an added bonus to HWI's strategic supply partnership, our product supply capabilities extend to more than just PPE and safety products. This month, we are proud to feature various refractory and masonry installation tools. As with all previous months, the products featured here are just a sample of what HWI has to offer.

Whether you are in a pinch for a few critical items to complete your current job, gearing up those job boxes for the next installation, or restocking your shop's store room, HarbisonWalker International can help you acquire the products you need for you and your team members to get the job done right.
